Wainwright Stampede Hampered By Rain; Excellent Performance

Bigger And Better Next Year

The Wainwright Stampede to which we had all been looking forward for some time, was pulled off Friday and Saturday under very unfavorable conditions.

On Friday Jupiter Pluvius in a generous mood dropped a shower which resembled a cloudburst. While welcomed generally by the farming districts it was not the most desirable for a Stampede. However, it made the ground in just the right condition for the boys who dismounted so unceremoniously, sometimes on their heads. Many however who intended taking in the show a year away going to bad roads following the rain.

A fairly good crowd turned out on Saturday and the Stampede management gave them a performance well worth the effort to come to see.

The baseball games alone were worth more than the price of admission. Several good games were played, Wainwright winning out in the finals.

Some of the winners in the Stampede contests were as follows—Saddle Riding (bucking contest)—1st, Cassie Patterson, Gadsby, on Silver Tip.

2nd, Charles Wells, Lea Park, on Rusty.

3rd, Cecil Young, Medicine Hat, on Bay Bird.

Barrel Race—1st, Ubrin Doan, Halkirk, on Grey Annie.

2nd, Carson Jackson Mannville, on Spit-fire.

3rd, Gerald Ambler, Minburn on Marble Eyes.

Steer Riding Contest—1st, D. Bruce Calgary.

2nd, E. Doan, Halkirk.

3rd, E. Quinn.

Free for all Running Race—1st, Jack Nash and 2nd Herb Hicks.

Pony Race—1st, Fat Babb and 2nd Pete Keller.

Some of the boys who got bucked off were.

Gerald Ambler of Too High.

Gordon Coups of Short Circuit.

Lloyd Myers, vanguard, off Nigger Baby.

Doug Bruce, off Rubber Neck.

Shorty Claybert, Dewar Lake, Saskatchewan, bucked off Dusty.

The Stampede Promoters wish to thank all those who in any way contributed toward the success of the Stampede. Not only to those who supplied the horses and steers but those who attempted to ride them, and also to those citizens who lent their effort in advertising, etc. We hope to have a bigger and better Stampede next year.

H. C. Montgomery Disposes Of Pioneer Grocery Business

Family To Reside In Edmonton

It was with considerable surprise and regret that the townspeople heard that "Monty" had disposed of his grocery business and intended moving from town.

Having lived in Wainwright for twenty-one years he and his family were well known and respected by all.

Coming to Wainwright first in 1913, H. C. was for a short time a knight of the Grip, traveling, for Webb's Ltd., of Edmonton.

In 1918 he started up in business for himself on the site now occupied by A. C. Armstrong's Ltd. In 1921 he built a frame store on the site which he has since occupied. In 1929 the Great Fire wiped out his store with the others and Monty rebuilt on the same site, a modern fire proof store.

Monty, very ably assisted by his good wife, has carried a straight grocery business in which country combined with quality to meet the needs of all customers.

Mr. C. G. Forryan takes possession of the store today and after Monty and family move away may occupy his residence on fifth avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery and family will move to Edmonton after examinations are over on about July 3rd and will occupy a fine residence on Wadsworth Road.

The good wishes of all their friends go with Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery and family to their new home coupled with regrets at their departure from our midst.

Capt. Kidd Fetes Edmonton Grads

Tulsa's Stenographers, fast-shooting and peppy aggregation of 14 tall players who recently played the Grads in a series of games in Edmonton are the "nearest approach, on or off the floor, to the Grads of Edmonton than any other team we've seen."

That's the opinion of "Cappy" Kidd, Wainwright C.N.R. employee, and one of the greatest players Grads have ever had. "Cappy" comes 125 miles a game to see the team in action, and in a great favorite with the players. In the series here he heard the Grads and their opponents at a social dinner at the Shasta, and he is an authority on the game and the Grads' opponents.

"You'll remember two teams more alike. The Tulsa girls are real sports in every sense of the word and they are the greatest team the Grads have ever played against."

"Cappy" cites just one instance of the Tulsa teams sportsmanship. At the dinner the girls of both teams passed around score cards and mementos for signatures and a check was made after the dinner that Mabel Munton, Grad star whose accident kept her out of the games, had been overlooked. Cappy got a scorecard before the Tulsa team left and explained the situation, and the result was a fully autographed card for Mabel which Cappy took to the hospital on Thursday.—Edmonton Journal.

Harmony U. F. W. A. held their June meeting at the home of Mrs. McCreadie on the 14th with several members and guests present. The meeting was opened by Mrs. Iaa M. CLOSED VOTERS' LIST TO STAND FOR 12 MONTHS

Ottawa.—A closed voters' list that will stand for periods of 12 months and always be ready for immediate use, appointment of a franchise commissioner for all Canada and revising officers in each constituency, and machinery whereby a general election could be held within four weeks' notice, are objectives of the new Franchise Act discussed in the House of Commons.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie, minister of justice, moved the resolution on which the bill is based, described its objectives, and deprecated efforts which he said had been made by some newspapers to give the impression those unfamiliar with either French or English would be disfranchised. That had never been the intention of the government, he declared.

Prime Minister R. B. Bennett also regretted the use made by some portions of the press of advance information on the draft bill for the purpose mentioned by Mr. Guthrie and also to lead the public to believe the Doukhobors in Canada would be deprived of the vote. It was suggested that the Doukhobors in British Columbia, who had defied the laws, would be treated. But that was a matter yet to be decided.

Members of the third group in parliament were incensed when it was revealed that the draft bill had been the subject of an informal conference between two members of the government, the leader of the opposition and one of his colleagues.

"One of the most disgraceful things ever known," said E. J. Garland (U.F.A., Bow River), in expressing his resentment that the third group had not been included in preliminary discussions. Robert Gardiner (U.F.A., Acadia) also expressed his belief that the government should have included his party in the conference. The reply of both Mr. Bennett and Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, opposition leader, was that the steps leading up to the preliminary discussions were taken in the house, and if the third group had wished to participate they could have expressed themselves at that time.

The resolution was passed after considerable debate but no great opposition to the principles of the bill was advanced.

Briefly the bill proposes to make the following changes in the present regulations:

Appoint a franchise commissioner for all Canada.

Appoint revising officers in every constituency.

Appoint one or more enumerators in every polling district, to prepare for first list.

Immediate preparation by enumerators of a voters' list for all Canada to be kept in print at Ottawa, and to stand for 12-month periods as a closed list.

List to be completely revised every 12 months.

Voters in urban districts to accompany registration with signed statement so that signature may be compared to obviate impersonation at the polls.

The list to be geographical rather than alphabetical, or both.

There is no change in the actual machinery of conducting an election and very little in the qualifications for franchise. The main consideration being given to the list of voters.

With the proposed closed list a person who moved during the 12-month period would be entitled to vote only in the district in which he was registered at the time the list was closed.

Mr. King, while not opposing the measure, suggested that there should be two enumerators in each polling district, representative of the government party and the official opposition, and that there should be an appeal from the rulings of the revising officer. The draft act contemplates no appeal but Mr. King thought one should lie with a county court judge.

The prime minister expressed the opinion that these differences could easily be composed and prophesied that the bill, when finally presented, would contain few, if any, clauses which would prove objectionable to any party.

Three Indian Brothers Committed For Trial

Charged With Murder Of Two B.C. Police Officers

Merritt, B.C.—Trial of three Indian brothers, charged with the murder of Dominion Constable F. H. Gibeaux on the Canford Indian reserve on or about May 24, will open at the Vernon, B.C., assizes, June 26.

Eneas, Richardson and Alex George were committed to trial by Magistrate A. G. Freese and were removed to Okalla prison under heavy police guard.

A fourth brother accused of murder, Joseph George, was under medical care in Vancouver. He was granted a further remand until June 21.

Many bloodstained exhibits were introduced during the two-day preliminary hearing. Indian neighbors of the George brothers from the reservation and expert police investigators testified for the crown.

A cheque for $500, the reward offered by the British Columbia government for the recovery of one or both bodies of the constables, will be turned over to "Big Frank," the Indian, who recovered Gibeaux's body from the Nicola river on May 26.

No pains have been spared by police in their efforts to avenge the alleged slaying of their comrades. Soon after the constables' disappearance, Attorney-General Gordon Sloan announced "the entire resources of the crown" had been placed at the disposal of the investigators in their effort to obtain a conviction.

May Beat Previous Record

One Pullet Has Chance In Egg-Laying Contest

Agassiz, B.C.—Only one pullet in the annual egg-laying contest at the Dominion experimental farm here has a chance to equal or better the world's record of 357 eggs in 365 days, equalled in last year's contest by the White Leghorn, Derron 10-L.

Barred Rock pullet No. 3, owned by the Delta Land Company, Vancouver, has laid 220 eggs in 224 days to equal the performance of "Dauntless Derron" at this time last year, its closest competitor is Barred Rock pullet No. 2, owned by A. Pennington of Agassiz, with 212 eggs.

Pullet No. 3 has laid small eggs, however, and is far behind on points in the current contest with only 201.7, ranking No. 10, a White Leghorn, leads with 219.6 points, although she had laid only 200 eggs.

Heart Surgery Possible

Cleveland Surgeon Predicts Direct Operations In Near Future

Cleveland.—A new type of heart surgery, promising one avenue of escape from the present tremendous heart death rate, was proposed to the American Medical Association by Claude S. Beck, Cleveland surgeon.

He pictured surgeons in the near future operating directly upon hearts. The hearts will be patched internally, he predicted, with grafts of tissue taken from other parts of the body.

Case For Federal Cabinet

Vancouver.—British Columbia's case for the taking over of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway by the Dominion and her claims for better terms under confederation will probably be considered by a committee of the whole federal cabinet some time after prorogation of parliament, Premier T. D. Pattullo indicated.

Tourist Body Appointed

Committee Consists Of One Member From Each Province

Ottawa.—A permanent committee to deal with the tourist industry and co-operate with existing organizations developing tourist traffic, has been appointed by the senate.

The committee is appointed of nine members, one representing each province. The senators are: W. A. Buchanan, Alberta; W. H. Dennis, Nova Scotia; W. E. Foster, New Brunswick; R. F. Green, British Columbia; R. B. Horner, Saskatchewan; H. G. Hocken, Ontario; Creelman MacArthur, Prince Edward Island; George Parent, Quebec, and W. H. Sharpe, Manitoba. Except for Senator Sharpe, the personnel of the committee is the same as that of the original special committee. Senator Sharpe was added to the standing committee in order to give representation to all provinces.

U.S. MAY ACCEPT PAYMENT IN KIND ON BRITISH DEBT

Washington.—Replying to the British war debts note of June 4, the United States government has suggested offers would be considered for repaying the debt or payment in goods and services. Points set forth are:

1. Great Britain would have to pay only the amount of the June 15 instalment to avoid being considered in default under the Johnson law.

2. There is no connection whatever between the debt owed the United States by Great Britain and those owed Great Britain by other countries.

3. The United States government will be glad to entertain proposals for either readjustment of the debt or payment in goods and services.

"The British government undertook to borrow under its own name and on its own credit standing, and repayment was not made contingent upon the fate of the debt due to the British government," the note said.

The suggestion for this manner of payments made in the note was declared not to be an offer for full payment on such a basis.

"Should His Majesty's government wish to put forward proposals for the resumption of payments, this government would be glad to entertain and discuss them informally."

"For instance, no proposal has ever been presented to this government looking towards payments in kind to an extent that might be found mutually practicable and agreeable."

"Any proposals of this or a similar character which promise mutual benefit will be carefully considered for eventual submission to the American congress."

Such commodities as tin, rubber, jute and silver immediately came to the minds of observers as they studied the note. The world's largest tin mines are largely controlled by Britain. Administration officials, apparently concerned over the United States supply, are lending support to congressional moves to retain present holdings and find a domestic source.

The British Empire is the world's largest producer of rubber of which the United States is the leading consumer.

Increased Nickel Production

Canada's Output For April Exceeded Only Once Before

Ottawa.—Nickel, essential alloy in the production of armaments, is once more front page news.

The bureau of statistics has announced production figures for April. The total is 12,924,418 pounds, the second greatest month in the history of production in Canada. Only once, back in November, 1929, did Canada's nickel mines exceed such volume.

In the four months ended April 30 last, production ran to 39,898,069 pounds which exceeds that of the corresponding period of 1929 by close to three million pounds. Thus 1934 is now well launched in a record-breaking year in the output of a metal demanded the world over in the making of war supplies.

International Nickel, at Sudbury, the major producer in the world, enlarged its plant after the peak year of 1929 and last April brought its full capacity into operation. The company is now running to full capacity. So, it is reported, is Falconbridge, the other large producer in Canada.

Anyone who doubts what is afoot in world armaments factories need only scan the statistics. Canada, it must be remembered, holds a virtual monopoly on this metal.

In 1932 the output was 30,000,000 pounds. In 1933 the total zoomed upwards to 83,000,000 pounds.

And in 1934 the prospect is for a production of about 120,000,000 pounds which will be some 10,000,000 more than the peak year of 1929.

Recognized For Discovery

Doctor Of McGill University Finds "Balancers" In Blood

Montreal.—World-wide recognition has come to Dr. J. B. Collip, head of the department of biochemistry at McGill University, for his discovery of new substances in blood which play the part of balancers and which may be new personally chemicals.

Dr. Collip reported his discovery before the Association for the Study of Internal Secretions meeting at Cleveland with the American Medical Association.

Some physicians who heard of Dr. Collip's discovery believed it might open an entirely new field in medicine. The chemical balancers appear to act as stoppers against effects of the hormones which the body produces from its endocrine glands.

The endocrine hormones in turn regulate growth, energy, color of complexion, sexual development, bodily contours and numerous other characteristics often associated with personality and health.

The medical name for the balancers is "antagonists" and they differ from "antibodies" which the body manufactures to protect itself from disease. One of the "antagonists" has been found definitely in animals, another shows traces, and there is evidence the same chemicals exist in human blood.

May Tour Canada

Hawker Flyer 'Planes Coming To Toronto In July

Calgary.—There is every possibility the five Hawker Flyer 'planes of the Royal Air Force that will visit Toronto next month will make a tour of the Dominion; George Ross, executive secretary of the Canadian Flying Clubs' Association, said here.

The machines, which carry a personnel of 16, are expected to arrive at Montreal, June 20. They have been invited to attend the Calgary Stampede in July.

STUDY INCREASE OF COARSE GRAIN ACREAGE IN WEST

Ottawa.—Plans to assist in the re-adjustment of Western agriculture by increasing the acreage of coarse grains to make up for reduced wheat growing are under consideration here as a result of the grain research committee. The group is meeting under the auspices of the National Research Council and is endeavoring to formulate the best suggestions men of science have to offer to Canadian agriculture.

Deliberations so far have centred on the thesis that the acreage sown to coarse grains, barley, oats and flax, in Western Canada might be increased by some 3,000,000 acres without creating an embarrassing surplus. The estimate is based on prospective markets for coarse grains in the United Kingdom and Europe and for feeding purposes in Eastern Canada. Quality and quantity production is needed to take advantage of the growing research is being conducted along these lines.

C. B. Davidson, of the Dominion bureau of statistics, who opened the discussion of the existing economic situation, advanced the following observations:

1. The carrying out of a policy in regard to barley is the first step to be taken in the reduction of wheat acreage and the improvement in the quality of the wheat crop of Canada (high grade barley tends to grow in areas which produce low grade wheat).

2. Claims there have been over-expansion and over-production in Western Canadian agriculture cannot be applied to cereals generally.

3. The world trade in coarse grains in recent years has exceeded the world trade in wheat.

4. Wheat acreage in Europe increased by 6,500 acres between 1924 and 1933. The coarse grain acreage remained almost constant.

5. The use of corn in feeding markets is markedly on the increase, particularly in the United Kingdom.

6. Germany is the only importing country which has reduced her import requirements of feed grains.

7. In Eastern Canada there is a demand for feed which barley might meet, particularly if water transportation were used.

8. At the present time Canada does not possess the coarse grains with which to secure a share of the market available.

CREDITORS OF GERMANY NOW FACING PROBLEM

Berlin.—Germany has told foreign creditors they will receive no interest for at least six months on medium and long term obligations, including the Dawes and Young loans, to the payment of which the "full faith and credit" of the Reich government was pledged.

The moratorium was not unexpected, but the announcement placed the problem of what to do about the financial condition of Germany squarely up to the creditors.

The position of Germany as outlined in a communique of the Reichsbank announcing the moratorium, is that transfer of payments out of the country is impossible because of the low supply of gold and foreign exchange and that there would be no profit to anybody in devaluing the mark.

The mark, now almost wholly a national currency, has been held firmly on its "gold standard" basis, although the gold coverage has dropped below 3.7 per cent.

The Reichsbank statement dealt with all obligations except the Young and Dawes loans, and was followed by an announcement from the ministry of finance that interest and amortization on these would be suspended "for the time being until further notice."

Payments on the other obligations were suspended for six months beginning July 1, 1934, the bank statement said. These payments already were on a restricted basis, but the Dawes and Young loan had been exempted from previous partial payment arrangements.

The two important loans were floated to refund certain obligations of Germany resulting from World War reparations.

The Dawes loan, issued in 1924 to insure currency stabilization, bears interest at 7 per cent, and the Young loan of 1930 is on a 5½ per cent basis.

Saskatoon Man Killed

Dental Technician Had Just Started On Business Trip

Saskatoon.—Scarcely out of the city on an extended business trip, a dental technician, met violent death as he car skidded and overturned in the ditch. The accident occurred about 16 miles north of the city on highway No. 8.

Two other occupants of the ill-fated auto, Abe B. Handelman, and Louis Wener, explained that Lipkovic had got into difficulties when the car had skidded in loose gravel at the edge of the road. The driver had attempted to pull the vehicle onto the roadway and in so doing overturned it. Coroner A. M. Molloy, M.D., ruled no inquest was necessary.

Continuing Debt Payment

Pretoria, South Africa.—Disregarding the war debts controversy abroad, the Union of South Africa is continuing her payments to Britain. She has just paid the last six-month instalment of £178,850, roughly $385,000, and intends paying the next instalment in December, regardless of whether the British government reaches a final settlement with the United States by that time.

Paying Bounty On Wheat

Dublin, Irish Free State.—The Irish Free State department of agriculture has announced it will pay a bounty of $2.12 a barrel for home-grown wheat. The department said the amount paid per barrel of home-grown wheat during the season ended April 18 was $6.25. It added it had been found the average price for such wheat was $4.12.

Holding Field Day

Regina.—Canadian Seed Growers' Association will hold a field day on the farm of R. D. Kirkham, Saltcoats, July 25. Field day meetings under the crop testing plan are being arranged for in Saskatchewan under the auspices of the federal seed branch, provincial department of agriculture and Dominion experimental farms.

Praised Ottawa Accords

London.—The Ottawa accords at the 1932 Imperial conference contributed more than anything else to the improved conditions in England during 1933, Sir Arthur Balfour, B.M.P., declared here. He said the accords, declared here, following a meeting of that body.

The first member of the royal house of Hapsburg to return to Austria from exile in 15 years, the Archduke Eugene (left), is shown in conference with Engelbert Dollfuss, Austrian dictator, soon after his arrival in Vienna. The Archduke had lived in Switzerland since the fall of the monarchy, when he refused to relinquish his imperial rights. He was greeted enthusiastically by people in Vienna.

DISARMAMENT

In the multitudinous discussion regarding the present unsettled state of the world, we frequently hear it re-marked that the chief cause of the trouble was the great war. There are some people who claim the present financial system was headed for the rocks in 1913, the war only prolonging the system and throwing in a number of fresh problems of its own making. Whether the financial system was headed for the rocks on 1912, to most people at least, is purely a matter of conjecture, but those same people are quite certain that the majority of our present day economic troubles are a direct result of the war and subsequent events following for which the war was responsible. As an isolated example one could truthfully say that were it not for the war there would have been no such thing as $2.50 wheat and as a direct result of $2.50 wheat, 20c wheat a number of years later became an actuality.

Many people believe that as long as nations possess large and well equipped fighting forces, another war is inevitable. They claim within a world armed to the teeth the spark will be found that will be fanned to a conflagration. Hence the intense interest in the present international disarmament conference. That the conference is meeting with many difficulties and disappointments is common knowledge. Great Britain is striving valiantly to prevent the collapse of the conference, Sir John Simon having gone so far as to say, should this conference end fruitlessly another disarmament conference would be attempted. The British desperately desire peace. Firstly because of a deep seated hatred of war with its folly and horrors and secondly because they can best serve their own country by devoting much the greater portion of their energies to trade and commerce. In the meantime the seemingly perpetual clash of national interests in continental Europe continues and it is extremely difficult for the conference to make much headway with its altruistic and semi-altruistic policies.

There has, however, during the past few years arisen another powerful argument discouraging war. This in brief could be defined as the monetization of conflict. Investigations have shown that there are large armaments and also that these firms persistently lobby the parliament houses of different countries with the sole idea of selling armaments. How much these lobbyists are responsible in fomenting trouble between nations, is difficult to say, but there are many observers who do not hold them guiltless in this respect. It is even claimed that there is an international armament ring, the financial fortunes of which are built up upon human conflict. This knowledge is more and more divorcing the common people from the belief in the necessity, nobleness and glory of war.

As recently as the middle of this month the Clergy Pensions Board in Great Britain decided to withdraw its $50,000 investment from the armament firm of Vickers Limited. An official return showed that Great Britain had exported 5,000,000 rifle cartridges to Paraguay and 100 machine guns to Bolivia, both South American nations now being engaged in a particularly fruitless and futile war of human slaughter. At the annual meeting of Vickers Limited held recently in London, England, shareholders asked pointed questions regarding the export of arms, and the chairman, Sir Herbert Lawrence felt called upon to give a general assurance that the company is concerned only in legitimate trade. He declared emphatically that the Vickers Company take no part in politics either at home or abroad and that the company was not a member of any international armament ring, on the contrary there is the keenest competition to secure orders. He also claimed that as long as armaments were necessary for defence the making of them was not only legitimate but a national service.

The fact remains, however, that while all this may be true of Vickers Limited, it is true that a great deal of "high pressure salesmanship" is brought to bear upon nations, particularly the smaller ones, to buy armaments. It is in the breaking down of this monetization of conflict, that many people see a real disarmament victory.

In the United States there is now in existence a Senate Committee to investigate the munitions industry and this committee has designated the "commercial motive" as public enemy No. 1 as regards fomenting war. It has been estimated that it cost $25,000 per man killed in the world war and Arthur H. Vandenberg, a member of the committee is strong in his condemnation of munition firms filling their money coffers with profits derived from the slaughter of mankind.

So it would seem that where high ideals and altruistic motives have failed to bring about a reduction of armaments, it is possible that a natural human revulsion to some people fattening on blood money, may bring about a solution to the problem.

CREATIVE WORDS

BY

REV. T. EDGAR ARMSTRONG, B.A.; B.D.

Pastor Wainwright United Church

Texts. St. John 17:8. For I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me.

St. John 6:63. The words which I speak unto you they are spirit and they are life.

Each workman has his tools words are the tools of everyone, but especially of the teacher and preacher. By words we robe ideas.
I am afraid that too many hold the conception that the chief requisite for the ministry is a gift of the gab.
Not so, we need men who can express their feelings in words when words are the utterance for feelings, ideas, emotions, personality, they are creative, dynamic, life-giving things.

I am convinced that ours is a Christian true conception of life. This is more real because the vital life of the tree is expressed through it. Our words ought never to be put on but should express our real, vital selves.

We may ascribe many qualities to words. I recall hearing Dr. Lynn Hould, himself a master with words, speak on "Words." He drew our attention to the allurement of words. The artist paints with brush and material, but the word artist paints his pictures with colors and tints just as alluring "The Thousand Paths that Slope the Way to Crime."

Next he spoke of the magic of words. Words have a magic, heavenly effect. Shakespeare "great nature's sweet restorer, balmy sleep."
The centurion said to Jesus "speak the word and my servant shall be healed."

There is a menace in words. They are intractable things once spoken they are gone.

"I breathed a song into the air
It fell to earth I know not where.
For who has sight so keen and strong
That it can follow the flight of song."

As the pebble thrown in the water sends out concentric circles to the most distant shore so our words go out through space. I might further speak of the morality of words, that silent revealers they are. The kindship between mind and matter;
But the quality of words to which I wish to direct your attention is their "creative power."

The parable of the mustard seed illustrates the creative power of the little seedling. It was the smallest and yet when planted, under favorable conditions it grew and became a great tree. The stalwart oak grows from the acorn. The sturdy maple grows from the little winged seedling. They all have a creative quality. Now the writer has this idea of the creative quality of words.

It is rather interesting as we turn to the early verses of Genesis to meet a God whose words have a creative quality. God said "Let there be light and there was light." God said "Let there be a firmament" and it was so. The fact of creation is based upon the creative power of the words of God. The idea of words having creative quality runs through both the Old and New Testament.
Our text "I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me."
They are already under their influence and that is a boon.

I think there are experiences in Jesus' life which show us the creative power of words. Many experiences in His life are not mere happenings. There is a divine intent behind them. Take as an illustration the baptism of Jesus, a voice was heard, "This is my beloved son." Another voice was heard — on the occasion of the Transfiguration I can only think of these words as creative words in the life of Jesus. He went to His task with those words ringing in his heart, "I am the Son of Man."
He had listened and heard the voice
Divine. This experience confirmed His decisions and appointed Him to His task.

The words of our text are words of Jesus. He had acquitted himself before His father when He had given unto them the words which He had received. These words ought to be a saving factor in their lives, creative of high resolve and noble achievement.

I have been wondering as to which are the great creative words spoken by Jesus. They said "Never a man spoke like this man." "He hath the words of Eternal Life." A life not marked by mere quantity but by its quality. Of course the Sermon on the Mount is notable for the truths it presents and it may come with a creative power to the one to whom it applies. Take the very word "Blessed." How suggestive in an age when to many minds unhappiness was associated with Christianity. Those were days of persecution and such words were productive of a new morale.

"Blessed are the pure in heart for they shall see God." Such challenging words inspired men to strive for purity of life amid adverse conditions. They created in them a spirit of devotion to the highest and best. You take any of the beautiful sayings of the same principle. They are words of inspiration to men longing for a closer walk with God.

Perhaps those are very general principles. Let us move into a particular area. There we see creative words also.

Lepers came and worshipped Him saying "Lord if thou wilt thou canst make me clean." Fancy him listening for a reply. How delightful to hear "I will be thou clean."
Recall the man sick and borne into Christ's presence by four. "Son thy sins are forgiven thee." Jesus joined to the disciples on the storm tossed sea. They were fear-stricken. "It is I. Be not afraid." must have brought comfort to them.

Passing by Matthew as he sat at the receipt of custom Jesus said, "Follow me." Aspirations were aroused in Matthew's heart.

We note the disparity of the disciples on the way to Emmaus. "Were not our hearts strangely warmed as He talked with us by the way." They felt a creative influence had touched them. They were not just the same after that conversation.

Mary in the garden said, as she thought to the gardener, "If ye have borne Him away will you tell me where you laid Him." What a flood of surprise and awe awoke when Jesus said "Hail Mary."

While I might go on and cite other instances of His words being dynamic in human experience, I am wondering what words would be creative for us and beget in us courage, endurance, devotion, love.

These are some which I find helpful and I trust they will prove so to all readers.

"Son thou art ever with me and all that I have is thine." The parable from which the words are taken was designed to portray God. It also portrays traits of men and conditions of life. The elder brother had been labouring under a sense of injustice.
Life had been monotonous to him, nothing exciting or spectacular. The tendency has been to make much of the special or extraordinary. This elder brother had been the recipient of blessing but had been unappreciative.

So many today need to feel that heaven's resources are theirs. God is a loving father and will not withhold good gifts. Nature is friendly and the Divine is willing to share with us.

I wonder if any words were more frequently upon the lips of Jesus than "Be not afraid, it is I, be of good cheer." I don't want to think of Jesus as living a care free life, glibly saying "be of good cheer."

He said so, but had deep reasons for so doing. His contacts with God gave them assurance. Difficulties

CAMP IS PLANNED BY UNITED CHURCH

Young people of the provincial council of the United Church are planning their first annual camp, to be held at Kasota beach, Sylvan lake, July 23 to 30.

This is open to all young people of the province, and registrations are already being received. They hope to have a camp of 50 or 60.
Rev. A. D. Miller and Mrs. Miller,
Rev. Howley Jones, Rev. R. W. Hibbert, Mr. Findlay Barnes, and Cyril Brethour are some of the leaders.

A week full of study, leadership, swimming, boating, hiking, baseball, volleyball and nature secrets will make up the best camp holiday possible.

and problems were yielding before Him. He had a service of mastery in His life.

Fear renders men weak. Cheer and confidence make men strong.
Convince a man he cannot and he is impatient. Assure him he can and he is made strong. We need to hear creative words. Listen! "Be not afraid it is I, be of good cheer."

Another group of words have a sweet ministry for me "Go ye . . .
I am with you always."

Men have gone forth as crusaders in days past. They carried a cross as their banner. They went with the sense of being accompanied.
Shackleton and his men on their last drive for the pole found a presence.
It sustained them.

Today we want crusaders to free the living Christ from the trammels of materialism. John's vision was that the kingdom of this world is to become the kingdoms of our God. "His dominion shall stretch from sea to sea and from the river to the ends of earth." I am not thinking of the kingdom of Japan or China becoming Christian but I am thinking of the kingdom of commerce, industry, finance, economics, becoming Christian. God must find expression through them "Go ye into all the world and make disciples and I am with you always." Have you a sense of God's presence with you in life? Can you sense God as near in your worship? At your business? Is this truth being wrought out in your experience?

Now there are many more heartening words which fell from the lips of Jesus Christ and have a creative effect upon the hearts for which they were spoken.

The hymnist said "No word from thee can be fruitless fall." May His words be to us spirit and truth and create in us inspirations and resolves, which shall be fruitful in our lives. I have given unto them the words which thou gavest me."

The House of Commons in committee of ways and means, approved the amendment to the gold tax moved by Hon. E. N. Rhodes, finance minister.

The disarmament conference adjourned June 12, for a long "breathing space," in which governments will attempt to settle outstanding political difficulties.

Expansion of the British air force, announced some time ago, contemplates the addition of 50 squadrons, totalling roughly 600 machines, it was learned.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Quaker Oats elevator at Dallas, Sask. More than 9,000 bushels of grain in the house were ruined. The loss was covered by insurance.

John Duncan, veteran railway telegrapher, died recently in Toronto, aged 91. He succeeded to the job late Thomas Alva Edison, famous inventor, held as telegrapher on the Northern Railway.

The Victoria Daily Times, first published on June 9, 1884, celebrated its golden jubilee by publishing a special anniversary edition. The paper was founded by the late John Grant, M.L.A. for Cassiar at the time.

Market For Timothy Seed

Shortage In Production Is Opportunity For Western Growers

Domestic production of timothy seed in Canada is still far short of consumption, it is noted in a report of the Saskatchewan Department of Agriculture, indicating an opportunity for growers in the West. Timothy ordinarily yields from 200 to 300 pounds of seed per acre, and growers have received on an average about 4½ cents per pound for the seed basis No. 1 grade over the past three years. Canada annually about ten million pounds of timothy seed and until 1931 some nine million pounds of this was imported from the United States. Domestic production since 1931 has been greatly stimulated by educational activities and the prospect of a large domestic market. As a result, production increased from less than a million pounds to some five million pounds in 1932, but declined to about 2,700,000 pounds in 1933.

Melons Save Bank Notes

Unusual Happening In Fire At Constantinople Law Courts

A few weeks ago a great fire destroyed the Law Courts at Constantinople. The damage done was very heavy, but the chief concern of one official centred in a safe in which he had placed funds to the value of $5,000. Ultimately the safe was located amid the debris, and to all appearances it was a mass of warped metal, but the door was forced, and it was found that the money placed there by the cashier copertly was saved. The official had placed in the safe two large melons and they had given off sufficient steam during the fire to prevent the complete destruction of the notes. Some damage had been done but the numbers of the notes were visible and the State Bank accepted them.

Appreciates The Press

It is well to know that there is at least one man in public affairs who has an appreciation of the press, says the Lethbridge Herald. This is Lord Londonderry, Secretary for Air in the British Government. Speaking of the British press, he said: "We find the press men fair and helpful, sparing in their criticism and generous in their praise." This is regarding the press in the light it deserves to be regarded.

"Did any of your ancestors do things to cause posterity to remember them?" asked the haughty woman.

"I reckon they did," replied Farmer Courtisloe. "My grandfather put mortgages on this place that ain't paid off yet."

England is on the verge of the greatest agricultural revival of the last fifty years.

Air Mail Across Canada

Coast-to-Coast Across In 19 Hours Is Predicted

A coast-to-coast air mail service in 19 hours, travelling in aeroplanes capable of flying the sky lanes from Montreal to Vancouver at a speed of more than 200 miles an hour, is the hope of Canadian airmen.

Squadron Leader A. T. Cowley, superintendent of air regulations, when in Calgary on an inspection tour, outlined plans for the fast mail service of the future to be put in operation when economic conditions are better.

The proposed route would take a western aerial trail via Regina, Lethbridge and the Crow's Nest pass to Vancouver, making a direct mountain crossing to the coast. A branch service would be maintained from Calgary to Lethbridge.

Raining Gold

Fecular Phenomena Is Reported In India As Result Of Earthquake

The world may talk of gold standards and gold hoarding but in India it has been raining gold. Outlying districts in which seismic disturbances were felt recently, reported a shower of fine powdered gold and told stories of golden clouds of dust floating low over the country side.

The secret of the color of the dust was revealed when scientists analyzed samples and discovered that the dust harbored fine particles of the precious metal. The dust clouds came as a result of the earth shocks which the scientists suggested forced into the air delicate particles from deep rock fissures.

Little Journeys In Science

RADIUM

(By Gordon H. Guest, M.A.)

In 1910 Madame Curie culminated many years of efforts when she succeeded in isolating radium and giving to the world a new science, that of radioactivity.

This French lady has since become a figure of international importance for her work in connection with radium. Of Polish origin she began the work with her husband, Pierre Curie, a professor of physics at the Sorbonne, in Paris.

To-day she still directs radium research in the Radium Institute, on the Avenue Pierre Curie, in Paris. This institute was built as a memorial to Professor Curie who died in 1906, and thirty workers carry on studies in radio activity, under the direction of Madame Curie.

Radium is taken from pitchblende, where it occurs in very small quantities. It is estimated that three tons of pitchblende, which is sometimes called uraninite, contain about one gram of radium. The world supply of radium is said to be from $100,000 to $125,000 a gram.

Source of supply is in the Belgian Congo. It was at first valued at from $50,000 to $70,000 per gram. But with the discovery of new sources of supply it has come down to from $20,000 to $30,000 per gram. At the Radium Institute are two grams of the substance, one of which was procured by the Curies in their early work, and one of which was presented to Madame Curie by the women of America when she visited this continent several years ago.

Radium, however, is a long lived substance. In spite of the fact that it gives off extremely concentrated rays of heat and light, it does not diminish appreciably in volume or strength, and it is said that one gram of radium would lose half its volume by radiation in 1700 years. Through these calculations scientists have been able to do determinations on the age of the earth, through the study of radio active substances found on its surface.

Because of the extremely strong powers of penetration possessed by the rays given off by radium, it has found many uses in science and industry. Outstanding is the development of its use in the treatment of some types of cancer and of numerous skin diseases.

In industry it is used in the production of a luminous paint, familiarly seen on the faces of clocks and watches.

In recent years large deposits of pitchblende have been discovered in Canada, in the region of Great Bear Lake near the Arctic Circle. It is expected that within the next few years this deposit will increase the world's supply of radium sufficiently to bring down the price considerably.

France will retire $50,000 of its $60,000 government employees.

An Admiralty Court

Canada Has Passed Another Constitutional Milestone

Canada passed another constitutional milestone recently when the House of Commons gave third reading to a bill designating the exchequer court of Canada as an admiralty court.

Admiralty litigation has been heard for years by the exchequer court but under an Imperial Act. The 1929 conference on merchant shipping legislation reported control of admiralty courts was not in accord with the constitutional status of the Dominion as established at the 1926 Imperial conference.

The bill, sponsored by Minister of Justice Hugh Guthrie, gave Canada control over admiralty courts and set forth the necessary regulations. It passed through committee stage in less than five minutes and passed the house without opposition.

An Unenviable Record

United States Leads With Total Of 10,617 Murders

The lowest per centage of murders goes to the credit of Holland, with Great Britain a good second. The highest is to the discredit of Chile, but the highest total is recorded in the United States. In Chile, during 1932, the last year for which statistics are complete, there were 2,913 murders, equivalent to .61 per 10,000, or one murder every three hours. The United States show 8½ per 10,000; the total is 10,617. The highest per centage in Europe goes to Belgium, with 186 murders, but Germany has the largest aggregate (1,223) though this averages only 1.88 per 10,000 of the population. In the nine countries under review the total murders amounted to no fewer than 16,108.

The Panama Canal

Building Made Possible Only Through Concessions From British

Arthur Brisbane, protesting in the Hearst papers against Great Britain's failure to pay her debt to the United States, suggests that the Panama Canal rates might well be doubled against her. But the Panama Canal was built under an international agreement whereby the rates for British and American vessels would be the same. It ought not to be forgotten that the building of the canal was only made possible through certain British concessions. —Toronto Mail and Empire.

Fair Wage Schedule

New Bidding For Manitoba Applies To Private As Well As Public Works

Hon. W. R. Clubb, Manitoba minister of public works and labor, recently announced a new fair wage schedule for the province, applying for the first time to private as well as public works and containing reductions of from five to 10 per cent. from last year's rates for a large section of the building trades.

The new rates become effective June 15 and were worked out after two months' study by the fair wage board. One set of rates is for Winnipeg and territory within a 30-mile radius and another for the rest of the province.

Stone masons have been allotted two rates, 50 cents and $1 an hour, as against last year's rate of $1.00.

Agricultural Notes

Many Means Of Interest To The Western Farmer

The quick-freezing methods of preserving foods still presents many problems for the plant breeder and the research chemist.

The highest grade alfalfa and clover meals are associated with bright green colour; those of poor quality are coarse and yellow.

The use of resistant varieties of weeds seems to be the best way of combating stub-foot disease of those turnips.

As an average of all Eastern Canada, there were by the 1931 census only 41.8 acres in crop per farm which varied from 14.3 acres in Nova Scotia to 50.1 in Ontario.

According to a survey of Eastern Canada, two-plough tractors ploughed four times as much per day as two-horse teams, and at a cost of $1.20 less per acre.

Experiments are under way on Pacific Ocean transport ships to test the feasibility and economy of using "dry ice" (solid carbon dioxide) as a preservative for foodstuffs in transit by water.

A new process of sterilizing ice has just been developed in Germany. The sterilized ice is named "activated ice" to distinguish it from ordinary artificial or natural ice—Cold Storage News Letter, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

The silvish or fish moth is becoming increasingly notorious as a household pest in Canada, particularly in urban sections of Ontario and Quebec. These moths have a special liking for artificial silk (rayon) products.

Disintegrated peat is finding an important place in the top dressing of golf courses and lawns. Its value for these purposes is greatly enhanced if it is first composted with a good loam and a small quantity of ruminant manure, and the resulting product aerated.

In the Maritime provinces, and Quebec mud deposits have largely been used in the past for soil enrichment. Good results as a rule followed the first applications, but it was found in many cases that there was little benefit from repeated and continued applications.

The gypsy moth which has cost the New England States an enormous amount of money in keeping it under control was first found in the States of Massachusetts in 1869 but it was not until 1924 that it gained as entry into Canada in spite of the efforts of the officers of the Dominion Entomological Branch.

In purchasing a fish meal, the guarantee should be carefully read, bearing in mind the desirability of a comparatively low fat content combined with high per centages of protein and bone phosphate. If practicable, a sample should be obtained and examined as to freedom from rancidity.

Canada imports millions of pounds of dried apricots. Recent investigations at the Dominion Department of Agriculture Experimental Station at Summerland, B.C., have shown the possibility of proper varieties, cultural and processing methods which may make Canada independent of outside sources.

Soybean flour, on account of its extremely low starch content, is especially valuable for diabetic persons. The flour is being successfully used in making bread, biscuits, muffins, pastry, etc., and by reason of its composition increases the nutritive value of these products.—Soybean Bulletin, Dominion Department of Agriculture.

Employment By Forest Industries

In Normal Times Annual Wage Bill Amounts To $250,000,000

During the five-year period 1926-30 (which may be taken as a fair sample of normal conditions in the Dominion) the cutting of wood in the forest and the manufacture of this wood in the lumber and related industries provided work, on a yearly basis, for 244,000 people; that is to say, if the work had been spread over the entire year that number of people would have been employed all the year. Much of the work, however, is of a seasonal nature, so that the number actually employed in these industries was much greater. The annual wage bill amounted to about $250,000,000—over forty-two per cent. of the value added to the lumber by manufacture. These figures are given out by the Forest Service, Department of the Interior, as the result of their investigation of the matter and are published in the pamphlet "Forest Facts, 1933" lately issued.

Wage strikes in Australia are increasing.

OCCASIONAL WIFE

By EDNA ROSS WEBSTER

Author of "Joretta", "Lipstick Girl", etc.

SYNOPSIS

Camilla, Hoyt and Peter Anson, young and in love, marry secretly, deciding to live their own lives apart until Peter is able to provide for her. Peter is a young, struggling sculptor trying to win a competition for a scholarship abroad and Camilla is the adopted daughter of a wealthy family. She is not to inherit money when she comes of age and so is studying commercial art in the hope of landing an agency job. Others in the story are Avis Werth, another wealthy girl who is trying to win Peter, Sylvia Todd, Peter's model, and Gus Matson, his former roommate with whom he has quarrelled. After a party at an exclusive club, when the rest of the members of the party go to a cabaret to continue the party, Peter and Camilla slip off to the beach by themselves and fall asleep on the sand. When they awake it is early morning and Avis and another boy are standing near them. This makes it necessary for Camilla to announce before the party that she and Peter are married. Camilla urges Peter to accept some of her earnings to help him along, but Peter refuses and they quarrel. After Camilla has gone home, Avis Werth calls and persuades Peter to accept a loan of $1,000. Peter finishes his exhibit and asks Avis to accompany him to the studio. Peter adopts the latter title and Camilla, heartbroken, goes to Peter's studio for quiet and to console him. Avis and Peter later, and as the lights are turned on, see the statue has been shattered and place the accusation of doing this, and Camilla, stunned by the disaster, and hurt and horrified by the accusation, faints.

(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER XLVII.

Long silences and hollow, brief remarks, like those which fill a house where death has passed, prolonged that seemingly endless night for Camilla and Peter. Neither of them slept. There was little to be said. Only their separate thoughts labored in a ceaseless turmoil and gained them nothing.

If it had been a problem to solve, a difficult decision to be made, it would have been different. But a thousand sleepless nights and the thoughts of their lifetime could not efface this tragic thing that had come between them.

Camilla's tired eyes watched the windows being transformed into squares of gray patches with the approach of dawn, and the familiar objects in the room came back to her dark blot to definite shapes. The empty turn-stand mocked her derelictly and deepened her pain. For contrast, the modeled group in the window stood out sharply and proudly against the background of daylight.

If something had to happen to Peter's work, why couldn't it have been that piece which had been broken? It would have grieved her to lose it, but not like this! Over and over, she had wondered how the thing could have happened. It didn't seem possible that it could have been an accident from some natural cause. No, it appeared to be a deliberate act. But who could have hated Peter like that? It was almost funny that anyone could believe she had done it at least of all Peter.

W. N. U. 2051

Not if he had flirted with a dozen girls and broken her heart, could she have done so terrible a thing for revenge. No, never. She loved Peter so much that she would do anything in the world for him. Then why should she be so revengeful just because he had hurt her with his study attentions to Avis, to whom he felt obligated for some reason? It probably exaggerated that duty to his own mind because he always was doing kind things for other people. Avis had managed somehow to make him believe he owed her his gratitude.

Camilla had known all the time that Avis' sole purpose in taking that studio across the hall had been to influence Peter in her favor. Why any woman should so exert herself to take another woman's husband, she didn't know. And wondered if, having Peter as she did, he belonged to another, she would still make such an effort to win him. She did not know. She was far enough to admit that one never knew what one would do in another's circumstances.

No use to analyze all that now. Peter's loss was irrevocable. She would have to comfort him as he would permit her, and help him to revive his hopes and dreams. She would gently lead him back to the beginning again, like those brave figures he had portrayed in and sculpture he had made for her. Gazing at it again, its beauty and significance struck her so forcibly that she sat up quickly with a little gasp.

Peter, whose eyes had been closed but not sleeping, looked at her quietly.

"Peter, I have an idea!" she exclaimed, and her face brightened rapidly.

"Well?" he prompted listlessly.

"You must enter your immigrant group in the exhibit. Looking at it the light of the moon and framed in the brighter background of light from the window, I just now realized how wonderful it really is."

"If it took the judges that long to discover how good it is, I might win the 'prize in another ten years,'" he smiled.

"But, dear, even if you don't win, wouldn't it be better to enter something as good as that?"

"If I can't enter a piece that I believe has some chance at least, I'll stay."

"But it would have a chance. I know it would. If for no other reason, just because it is so different from most exhibit entries. Won't you please try it?" she pleaded.

He moved his head to one side, negatively. "It's no use. Forget it. Peter, you have to do it," she insisted sternly.

"You might even pretend that you planned to use that one all the time and were only using the other figure for sale."

"To protect you?" he quibbled.

"Oh!" she cried, would deeply. "Then you do believe what Avis said?"

"It isn't what I think. It's what all the others think who were here, and what they will say."

"Oh, no, Peter. I am sorry if any of them believe that I could be so cruel—but it's what you think—woefully. 'How can you?'"

"I didn't say I did," he denied bluntly. "I only said that what you suggested would protect you against what the rest might think. That would be the only reason I might enter the thing, for a blind."

FALSE TEETH

DAWSON'S POWDER

Dr. Werner's Powder holds false teeth so firmly and comfortably in place for 24 hours—they actually feel natural—nat. laugh, sing without fear of any slipping. Prescribed by world's most eminent dentists—they know it's the best—just sprinkle on. Inexpensive—any druggist.

Important enough to consider for entry in the exhibit.

With the revival of his hopes, Avis glimpsed a faint possibility for her own, and immediately sponsored the new idea. She insisted upon serving him a hearty breakfast and thus driving him to the museum with the piece of sculpture.

"Do you think I would take a chance on your tripping with your last and only hope, and breaking that?" she attempted to jest.

But his mood was not responsive. He was doing this thing more for Camilla's sake than anything. Just why, he did not know. Perhaps in memory of those first hours they had spent together when life and love had lavishly promised them so much, and there had been no thought of doubts and misadventure.

As Peter had predicted, there were more entrants than usual. Improved students competed for that privilege which would solve so many present difficulties for them, as well as others who sought the distinction and various advantages which the winning of such a prize would tender them. And, as he had expected, nude figures in innumerable symbolic poses predominated. In fact, there were few who had ventured anything else.

There were a number of weird contortions after the modern vogue, a few statues of prominent or historic characters, some animal and bird presentations. Fountains and garden pieces constituted the artistic majority, and Peter wished mightily that his youthful figure was added to their number. He might have had a chance, then, it had been good—better than most of them, and he believed it might have compared with the best of them.

He obstinately declined to accept Avis' suggestion that they stage the afternoon at a matinee or do something to take his mind from his work, and wandered about aimlessly for awhile before he returned to the studio and the suspense of awaiting the outcome. That suspense did not concern him so much now, but he was anxious to know what his own misfortune might have favored.

Have Seadog For Pet

Boys In St. John, N.B., Planning To Teach Him Tricks

Two boys who caught a seadog on the Bay of Fundy shore at West Saint John, New Brunswick, are wondering if it is really a white elephant. The young amphibian swims when to expect food, and three times a day, just before meal hour, he starts the neighbourhood with strange barking. Then the boys have to go fishing to satisfy their captive's appetite. They also feed him milk through a nipple on a baby's bottle.

After keeping the seadog in a garage for one day the boys returned to it the water and watched it swim away. Early in the next morning, however, it was waiting for them on the beach before their house and followed them home like an affectionate, although awkward dog. Sometimes it goes swimming following the family rowboat, but never deserts its new pals.

The friendly ocean canine, which enjoys frequent baths in a tub near the garage, is about three feet long and has a head resembling the ordinary dog. Dragging the hind flippers, it can walk almost as fast as its human companions. Since the pet refuses to go away, the boys are planning to teach him tricks.

A Marvel Of Architecture

Palace Of Arts In Mexico City Cost Ten Million Dollars

Many people look upon Mexicans as a somewhat barbaric people. Like Soviet Russia it is a country of periodical disturbances, but, like the Russians, they are intensely devoted to art, music and the theatre, and in the cities there is a far higher level of culture than in almost any English-speaking community.

After 20 years, the Palace of Arts in Mexico City has just been completed. The building was begun in 1904 during the regime of Porfirio Diaz, and despite frequent political changes, each succeeding government has continued the work. There was never any difference of opinion about that. The Palace of Arts is a stupendous structure, housing art galleries, a national museum, a gigantic theatre which is a work of art in itself and the auditorium of which has the most wonderful lighting system ever conceived, an auditorium for concerts, rooms for exhibits, lectures and various other purposes.

The building is a marvel of architecture and cost about $10,000,000. Neither Great Britain, Canada nor the United States could or would duplicate such a monument to the arts.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

Women Detectives Fail

To Be Disbanded In London After Six Months' Trial

Women detectives are a failure. Given a six months' trial in detective work, women members of the London police force have brought little beyond their inborn aptitude to their work.

According to the Policewoman's Review they have been found wanting in sundry other capacities needed in this type of police work, and are to be disbanded.

In an outspoken editorial on their failure, the Review states: "Many women who wish to qualify as detectives are always quite certain of their personal capacity and are often unwilling to admit the absolute necessity of training to aid their instinct."

"The average woman is by nature entirely opposed to detective work and we see in this choice a safeguard to herself and a guarantee that her contribution to police work must be along different lines to those of men."

"We are ourselves unable to consider the disbanding of the women detectives as disastrous."

THE RHYMING OPTIMIST

By Aline Michaelis

NEW POETS

We know the songs old poets all have made,
How they have painted life's divinest shades.
In words so splendid, now words are as shade.

To sun, as fast to soaring wings,
We know the words so futile any phrase must be
Which follows after perfect speech is said.

Our poems are as moths tossed out to sea,
While the strong, strong wings wheeling overhead,
In spite of this, who can from song
When it is passion of his every hour?
When through his veins he poured the Frenzied strains,
Who can keep silence and renounce his power?

We know old poets sung sublimely well,
Yet each new heart has its own tale to tell!

More British Films

English Film Industry Has Greatly Increased Output

The English film industry has quadrupled its production in the past few years, it was revealed recently, and the report pointed out that the quality of the films has led England's movie houses to show twice as many British films as the law requires.

The "boom" in English films has led to a production of an average of 10 films per week, or some 200 for 1934, if the present pace is maintained, as against the former annual averages of 50 to 60.

In Canada the distillery industry produces the largest industrial output for surplus use. Small amounts are used for human food products while a considerable proportion is fed or otherwise consumed on farms.

Almost Instant Relief From Neuralgia

For Quick Relief Say ASPIRIN When You Buy

Now comes amazingly quick relief from headaches, rheumatism, neuritis, neuralgia, the fastest safe relief, if it is said, get discovered.

These results are due to a scientific discovery by which an Aspirin Tablet begins to dissolve, or disintegrate, in the amazing space of two seconds after touching moisture. And hence to start "taking hold" of pain a few minutes after taking.

The illustration of the glass, here, tells the story. An Aspirin Tablet starts to disintegrate almost instantly you swallow it. And this is ready to go to work almost instantly.

When you buy, though, be on guard against substitutes. To be sure you get ASPIRIN'S quick relief, be sure the name Bayer in the form of a cross is on every tablet of Aspirin.

WHY ASPIRIN WORKS SO FAST

Drop an Aspirin Tablet in a glass of water. Note that BEFORE it touches bottom, it has started to disintegrate. When it does in this glass it does in your stomach. Hence its fast action.

Trophy In Dublin Museum

One Of Last Scapes Taken By Manitoba Sarcee

A black tuft of hair lifted from the head of a Gros Ventres warrior by a Sarcee Indian brave and one of the last scapes taken by Manitoba's dusky aborigines, rests under a glass case in the Dublin museum to-day, a concrete reminder to Irishmen that the Canadian west was once wild and woolly.

Ex-Mounted Police Constable Frank Dobbs, Shovel Lake pioneer, purchased the scalp in 1879 from Sarcee Indians of the Lizard Point reserve. He met them returning from their last brush with the Gros Ventres, an American band, and bought the scalp lock for a sack of flour. Afterwards, while visiting his home in Ireland, he presented the trophy to the Dublin museum.

A Farmers' Journal

Little Helps For This Week

"Serve Him with a perfect heart and a willing mind." 1 Chronicles 28:9.

Let not soft slumber close your eyes. Before you've recollected thrice The train of action through the day:

What have my feet chosen out their way? What have I learned where'er I've been? From all I've heard, from all I've seen?

What have I more that's worth the knowing? What have I done that's worth the doing? What have I thought that I should shun, What duty have I left undone, Or into what new follies run? These self-inquiries are the road That lead to virtue and to God.—Dr. Isaac Watts.

Little things come daily and hourly within our reach, and they are not less chances to get forward our growth in holiness than are the greater occasions which occur but rarely. Moreover fidelity in trifles, and an earnest seeking to please God in little matters, are a test of real devotion and love. Let your aim be to please our dear Lord perfectly in little things, and to attain a childlike simplicity and dependence.—Jean Nicolas Grou.

First Weather Forecast

Admiral Fitzroy Evolved System Seventy-Three Years Ago

The first official storm warning was printed by daily papers just seventy-three years ago. And how the scoffers scoffed when it proved accurate! The official responsible for such a daring commitment was Admiral Fitzroy, who, as first director of the Meteorological Department, then under the control of Board of Trade, deserves to be remembered as the father of the weather forecast.

He evolved the system of collecting and collating reports from a number of scattered sources. Whereas the modern forecaster is kept in touch with conditions all over the world, he received but five reports from abroad, and these were usually a day or two late! Fitzroy came to an untimely end; overwork drove him to suicide in April, 1865. He left behind him a mass of valuable data on weather observations at sea.
